One rider dead several injured

One snowmobile rider is dead and anumber have been injured as a result of a series of unrelated accidents which occurred this past week in various locations throughout the county.

Dead is 42 year old Paul Deveau of Scarborough. He was the driver of a snowmobile which swerved to miss a tree. The sharp turn caused Deveau to be flung from the machine, striking the tree. Police report that the man died of injuries at the scene of the incident.

Deveau has been snowmobiling with a friend, 36 year old Kenneth Morrisey of Toronto. Just moments before the fatal accident, Morrisey had driven his snowmobile over a snow cone and struck a tree. The man sustained a fractured skull and was taken to Huntsville Hospital and later transferred to Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto.

The accidents occurred February 3 on County Road 12, north of Dorset.

The investigating officer is Constable Boyd Jarvis. Coroner, Dr. Helds of Bracebridge attended at the scene.

Minor injuries

A single vehicle snowmobile accident January 30 on Haliburton Forest and Wildlife trails north of West Guilford resulted in minor injuries to an Orono man. Peter Burrows, 30, fell off his machine and struck a tree with his head. The accident occurred at 10 p.m.

The man was taken to Haliburton Hospital for treatment of injuries that were described as minor.

Constable Joe Dorricott was the investigating officer.

Strikes pole

An effort to avoid striking a pole with a snowmobile in Harcourt Park appears to have created more problems for a Kitchener area man January 31.

30 year old Robert Brogee was travelling on a trail when his machine descended a hill and climbed a snow cone. A pole loomed in front of the machine and the man leaned to one side to avoid the collision. The action allowed the machine to miss the object but placed the driver in a position to hit the pole with his chest.

Brogee sustained a number of broken ribs and was bleeding internally following the accident. After being taken to the Haliburton Hospital, he was transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough for further treatment.

The accident was investigated by Constable Mike Legge.

Falls from machine

A driver who fell from his snowmobile while travelling across Kushog Lake is suffering from chest injuries and possible internal bleeding. The accident occurred February 1, just past midnight as 57 year old William Coffey of Reaboro was crossing the lake.

The injured man was taken to Minden Hospital and later transferred to Ross Memorial in Lindsay.

Constable Mike Legge is the investigating officer.

Hospital receives accreditation

Minden Hospital has been awarded a three year certificate, the highest award possible, by the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation. The certificate was also granted to Haliburton Hospital and St. Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough following a survey conducted by the council in March 1985.

The three facilities have been affiliated since February 1984. According to a press release, the council is the only official body which is authorized to conduct an accreditation program in Canadian Hospitals.

The surveys are conducted at the request of the hospital and, once completed, a detailed report is submitted to the council. The council then provides recommendations to the health care facilities for corrections of observed deficiencies and awards a level of accreditation.

A three year certificate recognizes that standards are met or surpassed for all essential functions and that any weaknesses are of a minor nature. According to the release, "The council took pleasure in commending the staff of both the Haliburton and Minden hospitals for the excellence in building maintenance and high standard of housekeeping. A particular commendation was extended to William Heaton from the Minden Maintenance Department for his excellent records."

The framed certificate was presented to Minden Hospital's Nurse Administrator, Jean Anderson by Canon William Moore, chairman of the Board of Saint Joseph's General Hospital in a brief ceremony on Thursday.

Council ponders ATV race track

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association (HCSA) has asked Anson, Hindon and Minden council for a decision on the future of the ATV race track near the Minden arena.

At a council meeting held a year ago, the HCSA was told the planned Highland Cup Series of three races could continue for one year, but the track would have to be closed because of complaints from neighbouring residents over noise and dust. Council emphasised the agreement with the HCSA over the use of the property, was temporary and that the property had been designated as parkland.

Discussions were held over the possibility of relocating the track to a site north west of the baseball diamond, but a final decision was not made.

At the regular meeting of council on January 28, Ross Lindsay, president of the HCSA, asked council to clarify the status of the track. He told council the association has attempted to find an alternative location for the track but without success.

He stressed the importance of the ATV and Snocross races as a means of raising funds to offset the cost of maintaining snowmobile trails. He also pointed out a study has shown snowmobilers who make use of the HCSA trails contribute $6-million to the economy of the county annually.

Explanation of rate increase will be offered

A public meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 11 to answer ratepayers' questions on the escalating costs of the operation of the Minden Sewage System.

Sewage rates in the village of Minden increased by 15% this year. In 1984 residents were faced with a 100% increase over the previous year. A substantial portion of the funds raised through user fees is needed to cover the increasing interest payments to the Ministry of the Environment.

The Ministry constructed the treatment plant in 1979 and turned over the facility to the municipality. The deficit financing that was established at that time was based on predicted increase in usage which has not occurred.

Members of Anson, Hindon and Minden council, municipal staff members and lawyers Claude Thompson and Thomas Barlow, will be in attendance at the meeting on Tuesday. The two lawyers are members of a legal firm retained by the municipality in 1985 to conduct a full investigation of the financing of the system beginning with the initial construction of the sewage treatment plant.

The meeting will be held in the municipal council chambers beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Museum agreement may not be far off

A member of the Haliburton Highlands Historical Committee has expressed the hope that a basis for a formal agreement for the use of canoes in the Kanawa Canoe Museum has been established. Frank Wallace told The Times Friday that a verbal understanding between the local committee and the owner of the canoes, Dr. Kirk Wipper, has been reached over how the group could get access to the collection. He said he felt this understanding would shortly lead to a formal undertaking which would place the canoes in the committee's control and eventually result in a museum being constructed in Haliburton village to house the collection.

Mr. Wallace is a member of the Historical Society executive and was its founding president. Since its formation, he has been deeply involved in the establishment of a museum in the county in which to properly house and display the canoe collection amassed by Dr. Wipper.

According to Wallace, members of the local society and legal representatives met with Dr. Wipper and his counsel January 24. At that meeting, a verbal agreement was reached whereby the local society would have access to the canoe collection by virtue of paying a $1 per year lease fee.

The society member also reported that the agreement included an annual payment of $20,000 to Dr. Wipper over a five year period and an outright payment of $100,000 to the Kanawa Canoe Museum committee to cover expenses incurred in the operation of the museum over the next five years.

Wallace said the agreement reached by the parties also indicated that the county effort would have a year and a half to attempt to raise funding for the construction and operation of the museum. He said that during that time period, the museum committee would not entertain offers from any other community for the museum collection. This action would place a hold on an earlier agreement which would have seen the collection moved to a location in Port Hope.

Wallace emphasised that the agreement the two parties had reached was a verbal one, and that details were currently being worked out. He said the groups expected to enter into a formal letter of intent sometime this week.

The society member said the biggest task ahead of the local organization once the agreement is signed, is for a fund raising effort, locally and at provincial and federal levels. He said the group had received indications that the two senior levels of government were willing to assist in the undertaking. The effort also has the backing of the municipality of Dysart et al and the Haliburton County Council.

The collection of canoes and light watercraft from around the world has been amassed by Dr. Wipper, physical education professor at the University of Toronto, over a number of years. The collection is displayed in a log museum adjacent to Camp Kandalore property near Ox Narrows in Stanhope Township. The collection has been described by experts as being one of the most extensive in the world. Over the years, however, concern has been expressed for the safety of the boats in their present location. Not only is the present structure vulnerable to fire, it does not have proper climate control facilities to reduce the deterioration of the exhibits.

Over the years, various groups and committees have sought ways to relocate and protect the canoes, but little headway seems to have been made.

acknowledged the work the association had put into the construction of the track and of the need for a decision on the track's future. He suggested a one year extension of the agreement with the association to allow the staging of races next summer and to allow council time to consider alternative sites. However, councillor Verne Graham and deputy-reeve Bern Berry disagreed with the suggestion.

Graham asked for more time to review all the facts regarding the complaints over noise and dust.

Berry told council he had attended the meeting held a year ago when the issue was raised. Noting there had been valid complaints, Berry said he wanted to review the minutes of that meeting before making a decision.

The clerk was directed to provide all council members with information on past discussions over the future of the track and concerns raised by some of the neighbouring residents.

Drive underway to form Humane Soc.

A campaign will begin this year to raise funds for the establishment of an Ontario Humane Society animal shelter in Lindsay.

The Society has granted a charter to the Lindsay branch following a campaign carried out in 1985 during which 277 residents of Lindsay signed pledges to become members of the society.

Janice Jones-Skinner, secretary of the organizing committee, confirmed earlier this week the charter will be awarded to the Lindsay branch. The ceremony will take place at a general meeting to be held this Thursday, February 6 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of Central Senior School in Lindsay. A board of directors will also be elected at the meeting.

Mrs. Jones-Skinner expects a campaign to begin in May to raise funds for the purchase of property and the construction of an animal shelter. At present there are no indications as to the scope of the service the shelter will offer.

Many residents of Haliburton County including law enforcement officials, veterinarians and farmers have expressed concern over the need for a Humane Society in the region because of problems with abandoned and neglected animals.

The secretary of the Lindsay branch of the society is aware of these concerns and noted discussions have been held over the possibility of purchasing a van to transport animals to the shelter in Lindsay but cautioned that no definite plans have been made.

Mrs. Jones-Skinner noted anyone contributing a pledge of $5 or more will become a voting member of the society. For those unable to attend the meeting on Thursday, information and pledge forms are avilable by writing to Janice Jones-Skinner, 20 Albert Street South, Lindsay, Ontario. K9V 3G5.

Central Senior School is situated adjacent to LCVI on Kent Street in Lindsay.

Loans will assist owners

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden will soon be offering low-interest loans to owners of shoreline property to repair or protect buildings or property affected by flooding or erosion.

The loans will be made available until March 31, 1986 at an interest rate of 8% and are repayable over ten years through the applicant's municipal taxes and are registered on title.

The maximum loan for shoreline repair or protection will be the lesser of 75% of the total cost or $500 per metre of shoreline. For building repairs, the loan will be the lesser of 75% of the total cost or $20,000.

While the loans will be made by the municipality, the Ministry of Municial Affairs, Subsidies Branch, finances the loans by purchasing debentures from the municipality at the same interest rates. All projects are subject to the approval of an inspector appointed by the municipality.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council approved the appointment of Brian Sisson, the community services co-ordinator to the post. The program will commence when application forms are provided by the ministry.

January was quite a normal winter month. The heavy snow from December continued to January 6. A January thaw starting January 16 and through until January 22 finally reduced the heavy snow build-up. January was about two degrees C warmer than last year. Rain was considerably more than last January while snowfall was about a third less.

Trivia: January 23, 1935 Ontario's lowest temperature ever recorded -58.3 recorded at Iroquois Falls.

January 29 1977. A three day storm in Ontario recorded as the worst in memory.

Fair treatment

Last week, property owners along the Gull River in Lutterworth Township received some disturbing news. At a meeting in that municipality's council chambers, the Ministry of Natural Resources planners revealed the extent of the potential flood zone adjacent to the river. A subsequent investigation by township staff identified about 110 properties along the river which could be affected by the new findings. In some cases, the properties in question have already been used for the construction of cottages or permanent homes. These structures will likely be unaffected by the recent announcement although additions, structural changes or major landscaping alterations could come under tight restrictions.

However, a large portion of the lots in questions are undeveloped. These lots will likely face the most serious restraints as construction of buildings or other lot alterations will be curtailed to meet the objectives of the provincial flood damage reduction policy.

It would be safe to assume that most of the owners of the vacant property, purchase the lots on speculation or with the intention of building a cottage or home in an idyllic setting next to the river. Many of those people will now find they will be unable to use their property as they anticipated and that its resale value has been seriously eroded because of the new policy.

In the past, the ministry officials have indicated compensation is not available for property owners who find their land values adversely affected by this policy. While we can appreciate the dilemma compensation creates for the province, since this policy is currently being applied in various regions, we also think the government should be acting in a more fair and responsible manner.

If the property in question was being expropriated for a highway project, compensation would be provided either through mutual agreement of a third party arbiter. The same consideration should be given to these individuals who purchased the properties in good faith, at a fair market value, only to find a provincial government policy, applied here only recently, has diminished or in some cases, virtually wiped out their investment.

While not a direct precedent, surely the provincial assistance given to the victims of natural disasters, such as the Barrie tornado of last year, is indicative of an attitude of concern for property owners caught in a situation beyond their own control. The province is being petitioned to supply assistance to protect the properties located along the north shore of Lake Erie where high water levels again this year pose a serious flood potential.

We do not take issue with the province's desire to enact a policy for the protection of property and human life. That is a common sense approach with which most people will agree. However, in forcing its policies on a selected few in this community, the authorities should be willing to compensate them for the loss of property values. We feel it is the only fair approach to take.

Ontario's "birds of prey" are often grouped into general types - the daytime - hunting hawks and the night-hunting owls. Most of us picture owls as the silent killers of the night, swooping out of the darkness on some unsuspecting mouse spotted by their extraordinary night vision. Many people still incorrectly believe that owls can't see in the daylight. In fact, at least two of our common owls do their hunting during the day.

On a recent visit to a rural area of snowy fields and scattered trees, I saw both these species in the same afternoon. The first was the short-eared owl, a crow-sized bird whose awkward, moth-like flight first attracted my attention. As it grew closer, the buffy undersides of the wings, with a black patch on each elbow, provided positive identification. Though a bird of the open country and easily seen, short-eared owls are feared to be declining in recent years.

My other day-time owl was more unusual. The hawk owl is appropriately named, for at first glance it looks much like a larger version of the common sparrow hawk. Driving slowly along a road where a hawk owl had been reported, I was suddenly passed by a falcon-like bird winging straight across the fields. It pounced on a mouse, came low across the field again and swooped upward to the very tip of an oak to feast on its meal. Obviously, the vision of a hawk owl is very keen, for it had spotted that mouse from a full quarter-mile away!

Hawk owls are birds of the northern muskeg, where they favour perches on the bare remains of dead trees. Fattened by the mice of the

New funds for recreation

- by John Eakins, MPP -

I was pleased to announce last week $25 million for two programs to assist the development of recreational facilities in the province.

In 1985-86, a new Capital Conservation program was created for the express purpose of encouraging repairs and renovations to existing facilities such as arenas and community centres. This program was designed to encourage communities to modify their facilities so that the changing recreation needs of special groups, such as disabled individuals and older adults might be accommodated.

During the 1985-86 fiscal year, my Ministry committed $3.4 million to the Capital Conservation

Editor:

I would like to express the appreciation of our staff at Kinark Child and Family Services for the publicity which you have given to Break the Silence month.

Articles written by Michael Shirley and the editorial on family violence have been thoughtfully and sensitively written and I feel sure that they will have made many people in Haliburton think seriously about this important issue.

Articles like yours are only the first step in trying to solve this terrible problem which affects so many women and children in our community. Now people in Haliburton, along with the police and social agencies, have to work together to find the next steps toward eradicating this "poison" which so many of us have ignored in the past.

Thank you.

Editor protests meeting changes

The difficulty local newspapers face in reporting council meetings was the subject of a brief discussion at the regular meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council on Tuesday, January 28.

Len Pizzey, editor and publisher of The Haliburton County Echo, told council the decision to change the dates of the regular meetings meant ratepayers were being denied a valuable service. Traditionally the council meetings have been held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. The first meeting begins at 10 a.m. while the second session starts at 7:30 p.m. In December, council passed a bylaw to change the dated to the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Both The Times and The Echo are printed on Tuesday night.

"Because of our schedule, we cannot get out of the office during the day on Tuesday," Pizzey said. He added that while it may be possible to provide coverage for the evening meeting, it is impossible because of the lack of resources and manpower to attend the day meeting. He also pointed out the evening meeting coincides with the regular monthly meeting of the Haliburton County Board of Education.

Newspapers perform a valuable service to the community, not only by reporting what decisions are made by council, but also by reporting how the decisions are made, he said.Pizzey concluded by noting that while he was aware council had difficulty in setting a schedule, the ratepayers would be best served by choosing an alternate date.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt replied he had not realized the change would cause problems but added, since council was faced with a choice between Tuesday or Thursday since Provincial Court sessions are held each Wednesday.

Deputy Reeve Bern Berry pointed out that he, along with the bylaw enforcement officer and the community services co-ordinator, are taking evening courses in Municipal Administration at Sir Sandford Fleming College each Thursday. Because of further conflicts program. Today, I am happy to inform you that this government has allocated $10 million to the 1986-87 Capital Conservation program. And because the applications for funding requested under the previous government's program exceeded the funds available, I am also pleased to report that our government has decided that $5 million from the 1986-87 Capital Conservation allocation will be used for applications already filed this fiscal year.

This initiative demonstrates our government's responsiveness to the needs identified by client groups such as municipalities and community groups. Many people applied for grants under the 1985-86 Capital Conservation program but could not be assisted due to funding limits set by the previous government. I have corrected this.

I am also pleased to announce a second initiative...A new Captial Grants program for new recreation facilities. My government has committed $15 million to the Captial Grants for new recreation facilities program in 1986-87.

Municipalities and community groups can apply for assistance in the construction of new recreation projects such as community centres and sports facilities.

Many of you may be aware that sadly, under the previous government, this program has not been open for new applications since 1983. I am especially pleased that this government has recognized - and responded to - those needs that have gone unanswered over the past two years.

Both of these capital programs address the changing patterns of work and leisure, the increasing average age of the population, special recreation needs and the much greater importance of recreation in general. The economic activity these programs will generate, through construction and jobs, is also very significant.

Information on program guidelines and application deadlines will be made available in the next few weeks through the Ministry's regional offices.

Obtaining funding for these programs doesn't happen overnight. Funding allocation is a long and complex process, however, I feel the efforts made by the Ministry staff and myself are worthwhile.

Community Centres, particularly in rural areas in Victoria-Haliburton are important for the development of community spirit. When I chaired a rural task force in 1983-84, I found that many young people left their rural communities because, in part, there was a lack of recreational facilities, many of which are taken for granted in larger urban areas.

I am confident that our new programs will benefit many communities within Victoria-Haliburton in promoting recreational and community opportunities.

VIP program for veterans

- by Bill Scott, MP -

The Aging Veterans Program of the Department of Veterans Affairs has been expanded and given a new name. This popular program, designed to assist eligible veterans to live independently in their own homes, will now be known as the Veterans Independence Program - VIP for short. Another 18,000 veterans, over the age of 65 and in receipt of War Veterans Allowance, became eligible for the program on January 1, 1986.

The Aging Veterans Program introduced four years ago, was initially available only to war disability pensioners whose long-term health needs were related to their pensioned conditions. Designed to support independent living for war veterans, the program provides home modifications, transportation assistance, ambulatory health, and nursing home intermediate care.

Previously, about 8,200 veterans benefitted from the program. With the expected increse of recipients over the next year, total expenditures on the VIP are estimated to reach $13.5 million.

Veterans Affairs Minister George Hees, stated that studies show that at least ten veterans can be maintained in their homes under this program for the cost of maintaining just one in a health care institution. The Minister has also changed policy to allow the burial of spouses alongside veterans in cemetaries and plots owned or controlled by Veterans Affairs.

A 1986 budget wish

-by Gary Kenney-

In about six weeks, County Council will pass their 1986 budget. It's a safe bet they will approve the spending of just under $70.00 in taxes for every household in the Highlands. If past years are any guide, less time will be spent on that nearly $1.2 million than on the customary 11 a.m. coffee break.

This is how 1985's Dance of the Rubber Stamp was staged. The Management Committee met on a Sunday two weeks before the budget was to be tabled and jotted down a twelve month shopping list. It was kept a closely guarded secret until the March 20 presentation. On that day, the proposed budget was placed before representatives of the ten municipalities an hour before it was to be discussed. In fact it wasn't. Discussed, I mean.

For instance, when the Committee chairman commented that the Road Department's budget request had been shaved back, and the County Engineer replied that the original amount would have been hard enough to work with, no member of council thought to ask either man what effect the Committee's decision would have on that year's roadwork.

The unwritten rule is: Thou shalt not question the Management Committee's budget. When the vote was called, I counted five members present who could not summon the energy or interest to raise their hands either in favour or opposition.

Dare we wish for better in 1986? Surprisingly, there are a few hopeful signs. New additions to the chambers offer the best chance for change, and on the basis of just one showing, Lutterworth's Deputy Reeve stands a shoulder above the rest.

Ms. Puffer established three things at her first regular meeting last month. She does her homework (as shown by her comments on some business left unfinished by the previous council), she will not hesitate to deliver articulate and well focused questions (as she did on the same matter and several others), and, omigawd, she actually listens and takes notes (quite awesome events in that municipal parking lot.)

Unfortunately, councillors with ambitions that go farther then memorizing the list of ingredients on their morning's chewing gum wrapper will likely not be able to break with tradition. With only an hour to scan the budget's 50 or 60 items (while other business is going on), how deeply can they get into it?

Then too, how can they motion it back to committee for further work (according to Section 18 of the Procedural By-Law) when the first time it is seen is in late March and the next slumber party will be in May, almost half way into the year they're budgeting for? Sorry folks, but drastic times call for drastic action.

Star light, star bright,
If three wishes you give tonight,
I wish I may, I wish I might,
Have you help this scribbler's plight.

OK let's see now, I wish County Council would realize the error of no meeting in February. It stifles that most important work of setting priorities for the municipal year, publicly. It would be thrilling to know that more than a handful of Reeves, out of 16 voting members, got involved in a million dollar budget for more than a few minutes.

Alright that's one; now I wish council would use that extra meeting to discuss, as in jump-start gray matter, the proposed budget. There must be something to talk about. (If just the almost $200,000 budgeted to support tourism over the past three years, and zero bucks toward forestry.)

That's two gone. Lastly, I wish to know the winning numbers for the next Lotto 6/40 draw. What the heck eh, might as well thrown in an easy one for the old Dog Star. She's really got her work cut out with the first two.

NOTES AND QUOTES: Environment Canada released the acidity (pH value) of last week's snowfalls in the eastern provinces. A normal reading is pH 5.6 and each full number lower signals an increase in acidity by a multiplier of 10. The worst score recorded was our own Dorset's pH of 3.9, or seventeen times more acid than normal.

Class visits road dept.

Continuing their investigation into the workings of municipal government in the county, members of Mrs. Davis' grade 4A class at Archie Stouffer Elementary School visited the Road Department drafting room at the county building in Minden. Class reporters Jaime Kent and Jocelyn MacKenzie prepared the following report on what they saw.

On January 15, my class (4A) went to a county council meeting but our teacher, (Mrs. Davis) divided us into two groups so that one group went to the county council meeting and one group went to the drafting room.

Our group went to the drafting room first. We saw all kinds of interesting things.

There were two men that showed us the things. Their names were Brian Mullholland and Dennis Byers.

The first thing we were shown was the blueprint copier. Then he showed us Leroy. It was neat. Everyone got to spell their name. We also got to use the letra-set where we put our initials and then they showed us a compass.

Dennis showed us the calculator print, then Brian showed us the curves on the back wall. Then Brian showed us one of the maps he made. Next, Brian took us across the road to where the County Council meeting was and Brian showed us the traffic counter.

Then the other group came and we went upstairs to the council meeting and the other group went to see the drafting room.

by Jaime Kent and Jocelyn MacKenzie.

On June 15 we went to the county council meeting, but we also went to the drafting room. Brian Mulholland led us around and some of things we saw were, an electric eraser, a leroy, which is a ruler with letters on it, a photo copier and circular shaped things that Brian uses on his pictures.

We were allowed to put our initials on a piece of paper. Dennis Byers showed us a machine and it was called a calculator printer. Dennis let us each have a piece of paper that said, "Mrs. Davis grade 4A"

4A would like to thank Mr. Obee who organized it and Dennis Byers and Brian Mulholland for showing us around.

We all had fun.

Meeting changes

with BIA meetings and Men's Recreational Hockey, council decided to hold the meetings on Tuesday, he explained.

Both the deputy reeve and councillor Royce Miller belong to recreational league teams.

Berry noted however, that since the college courses will be completed by the end of the year, council may reconsider the dates of the meetings.

spaghnum bogs, they nest in old woodpecker holes or on the rotting wood of a dead stub. At first glance their resemblance to a hawk is striking. Hawk owls even jerk their tails when sitting upright, much like the common kestrel. But a close look at the rounded face, framed by handsome black sidebars, identifies this as one of the most exotic of Canada's owls.

Times finishes season in top spot

Scoring twice in the last five minutes of play The Times came from behind to earn a 5-5 tie with Hartwick Construction and clinch first place in the standings in the final game of the Minden Men's Recreational League regular season.

In other games played Monday evening at Minden arena, Home Hardware pulled ahead of The Rockcliffe Foamblowers to earn an 8-7 win and capture second spot in the standings.

In the first game played Monday, Hall's Insurance defeated Vasey's Real Estate 5-3. John Barkwell led the way for Hall's scoring twice and adding a single assist.

Lawrence Lougheed added a single goal and a pair of assists while John Fedesky and Dan Ellis rounded out the scoring with singles. Bern Berry, Andy Campbell and John McAdam constributed single assists in the win. Brian Shaw was the top pointgetter for Vasey's with a pair of goals and a single assist. Randy Anderson added Vasey's final marker. Single assists went to Eldon Bull, Dan Reid, Barry Walker, Carl Northey and Dave Rodgers. Dean Hewitt scored three goals in the final three minutes of play to pace his team to a come-from-behind win over the 'Blowers. The 'Blowers held a 3-1 lead at the end of the first frame but Home rebounded to go ahead 5-4 at the end of the second.

The 'Blowers regained the lead with three unanswered goals in the final frame but with only 3:24 remaining, Dean Hewitt scored to narrow the lead, added his third goal of the game at the 1:14 mark to tie the contest, then popped in the final goal of the game with 1:07 remaining to clinch the victory. Hewitt also added an assist in his team's win.

Rick Hartwick, with a pair of unassisted goals and two assists, Larry Sawyer, with an unassisted marker and a single assist and Doug MacNab with a single goal rounded out the scoring. Assists went to Brett Austen with three, Harold Cowen with a pair and singles to John Dettman and Royce Miller. Dave Brown the league's leading scorer notched two goals and an assist for the 'Blowers. Joe Giles with a goal and two assists, Jim Todd with a goal and an assist, Casey Cox with an unassisted marker and Dave Pettes also with an unassisted goal rounded out the scoring. Dave Crego picked up a single assist.

The final game played Monday evening was the most intense of the three contests played as The Times fought to overcome an early lead by Hartwick. A loss by The Times would have dropped them into a tie for first place in the standings. The 5-5 tie gave The Times a slim, one point lead over Home Hardware at the end of the regular season.

Scoring for The Times were Jerry Campbell with a pair of markers and two assists, Sid McKeigan, two goals and an assist and Ted Vasey who scored the final goal to tie the game. Assists went to Kim Colliss and Barry Shaw with singles.

Leigh Bull led the way for Hartwick scoring twice and adding two assists. Kevin Hamilton added a goal and two assists, Steve Crowe notched a single marker and added an assist and Greg Carpenter scored once. Joe Mitchell picked up three assists.

The playoff schedule begins on Monday, February 10 at 7 p.m. with a game between Hartwick and Halls.

Rockcliffe meets The Times at 8:30 followed by Vasey's vs Home at 10 p.m.

After five weeks of play in the preliminary round, the top two teams will advance to a best of three final series.

1986 Minden Men's Recreational League regular season champions, The Times, narrowly escaped being knocked from sole possession of first place, when they managed a tie against last place Hartwick Construction Monday night. The team showing their determination, came from behind in the final frame to secure the championship with a 5-5 tie. Members of the championship team include, from the left, front row, Denis Brule, Kim Colliss, Barry Shaw, Sid McKeigan, and Dave Lee. Back row, Ted Vasey, Dennis Wilson, Paul Walker, Terry Crowe and Jerry Campbell. Absent when photograph was taken were Fraser Rogers and Jim Keetch.

As the Minden Pee Wee defence restrains a Little Britain forward, goalie Lorne Greer rushes from his net to smother the puck during a playoff game at Minden arena on Saturday. In spite of the close checking Little Britain skated to a 5-0 shutout over the home team.

Pee Wees split weekend pair

After winning their first five games of the playoffs, including a 9-0 drubbing of Uxbridge on Friday, the Minden Pee Wees finally met their match losing 5-0 to Little Britain on Saturday at Minden arena.

Playing in Uxbridge on Friday evening, Minden scored twice in the first period added four more goals in the second and finished off the scoring with three goals including two unassisted markers by Kent Taylor to earn the 9-0 win.

Joey Boyle led the way for Minden with four goals including an unassisted marker. Kent Taylor scored a hat trick and added three assists. Rob Ackerblade rounded out the scoring with a pair, Derrick Moore contributed three assists and Darren Sawyer assisted on one goal.

Lorne Greer played an outstanding game in net to register the shutout.

After skating to their most convincing win of the playoffs, Minden returned home to face Little Britain who are rated as the strongest team in the league.

True to form, the visitors skated to a 5-0 shutout to clinch their sixth win of the series. Little Britain remains undefeated in the playoffs and has only allowed two goals in their six games.

In spite of the strong opposition, Minden held the visitors to a one goal lead late in the second period when Little Britain notched three markers in as many minutes. The visitors added one more goal in the final minute of play to round out the scoring.

The Minden Pee Wees have two more games remaining on the round robin playoff series.

On Thursday there will be a return match in Little Britain at 8 p.m. On Sunday February 9, Minden travels to Port Perry for a game beginning at 7 p.m.

Seniors compete in 'spiel

by Gladys Reid

The curling seniors of Haliburton hosted Minden in an inter-club bonspiel on January 28. 68 women and men enjoyed good competitive curling in the double draw and were fortified by an excellent luncheon, courtesy of the ladies of the club.

It was actually a return match and this time home teams won the lion's share. Winners of the first draw prizes were the Doug Sealey and Gloria Nimigon rinks; members of Doug's team were Hilda Sealey, Stuart Martin and Ethel MacDonald, while Roy Nicholls, Wally and Georg Knobloch threw for Gloria. The second draw prizewinners were a third Haliburton team skipped by Walter Webb rounded out by Don Clee, Gladys Fujar and Maxine Cross and Ed Pettinger's Minden foursome consisting of he and his wife Peggy with Ruby and Ralph Kennedy in the lead positions.

It's rumoured that Minden are not entirely satisfied with the outcome and may demand a third encounter!

Lift-off to Oblivion

It's dawn - we wait,
In frustration
After seven tries.
The good-natured bantering
Continues between astronauts
And ground control crew
"Let-s get this show on the road.
Are we or are we not
Going to take this momentous
Trip through the skies?"
We're poised for flight
In man-made bird
We contemplate our fate.
With help of God
We shall come back again,
But God has made different plans for us
For seven heroes
Who are putting their lives on the line
For the sake of science and mankind -
Now, with one earth-shattering roar
And locked inside our rocket's breast
We soar
Straight through the sky!
Our headphones catch from far below
The joyous shot
All systems go!
But only for a minute -
We do not hear
The silent horror
That befalls,
For we are caught
In one tumultous rock and roll
And burst of flame!
Our job for Earth is done
And God is there
To touch us everyone.

Yvonne.

Guild news

by Leo Dobrzensky

The end of January has been a busy and exciting time for Guild members. On the 28th, the weaver's group visited Wendy Bateman in her Buckhorn Road studio and was shown the interesting tapestry on which Wendy is presently working. It was commissioned by the Anglican Church in Port Perry. From February 3-6, the artist is giving a rag-weaving course at Sir Sandford Fleming, Haliburton Campus. Several members of the weaver's group are enrolled int he course. Please note: the date of the spinners and weaver's meeting has been changed from February 10 to February 17 and will be held at the Sandalwood Gift Shop in Minden at 7:30 p.m.

The smocker's regular meeting is on February 10 at 7:30 at Cathy Mitchell's. The rug hookers will meet on February 10 at the United Church in Haliburton. On February 22, they will host the Trillium and Violet workshop, an all-day workshop for the Ontario Rug-hooking Guild at St. George's Anglican Church.

Under the leadership of Barbara Peel, ten budding potters are learning this ancient craft. The classes which are held every Monday, are bringing new blood into the existing group.

Another exciting musical evening in the concert series will take place at the Haliburton High School on February 10 at 8 p.m. The unique ensemble "Chalumeau", features five young Canadian artists; violinists Marie Berard and Nancy Gibson, Ronald Hay, viola, Janet Kuschak, cello and Annie Massicotte, clarinet. The artists' classical and romantic repertoire has been received with great audience enthusiasm. Tickets at $10.00 can be purchased at the door.

The first travelling show of original works by Guild members: "Travelling with art in mind" has left Belleville where it was exhibited from January 15 to February 1 and is now on the way to Bancroft. It can be seen there from February 7 to 29.

The Carnival is fast approaching, so don't forget the dates, February 14, 15 and 16. Craftspeople should bring their work to the Gallery on Monday, February 10 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. For fund raising purposes, guild members are asked to bring baked goods to the gallery on Saturday, February 15 before 10 a.m. "Good Evening Sports Fans", a collection of items from the Sports Hall of Fame, will mark the opening of the gallery. Included in the exhibit are: Petra Burka's speed skates and one of her costumes, Steve Podborski's ski suit and Dave Irwin's ski helmet. Skater Toller Cranston, who is an artist as well, will have some of his prints in the show.

Leopolda Dobrzensky will be autographing copies of her book "Fragments of a Dream" in the Main Gallery on Saturday, February 15, between 11:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Mary Wallace, a well-known local artist and guild member, drew the cover sketch of the book depicting the Thomas Watt shanty in Harcourt. Speaking of books - Neil Broadfoot of Peterborough - another artist who has exhibited at the Gallery, illustrated "Me n' Len", a little gem of folklore by Richard Pope, describing the life and times of Wilberforce trapper, Len Holmes. A book well worth reading during long winter evenings.

The newly formed writer's group has already five members and there is room for many more. Interested people are asked to call Virginia Muenzel at 754-2181 or Joan Hoad at 457-2929.

Dear Readers:

Well here we are again; the months seem to speed by even if some days are kind of draggy. We had a 'Fun and Fitness' class in the morning to keep us limbered up and lively and crafts in the afternoon. Everyone does what they can.

Mrs. Pearl Lyle quilted a quilt this past week with a little help from her daughter Jean odd afternoons. Angus Coulter is doing some ceramics, it's all very interesting. Mrs. Eastman, although she is 96 and blind, knits strips which others sew or crochet together and make nice afghans.

Doris showed us four films in the auditorium after supper, "Age of the Buffalo" "Audubon and the Birds of America", "Channel Islands" and "Beautiful New Zealand." All very beautiful and informative and, as I've said before, they take us to places we will never be able to go and see.

Tuesday morning Pastor Wood and his wife Joyce came for church service which was very good and we enjoy the music and singing so much too.

Mrs. May Wright had a lovely surprise the first of the week when her daughter, Eileen who lives in Rock Springs, Wyoming, came to visit with her for a few days. Jessie Walter went home to be with her family for a few days and also Ruby Lewis went out Sunday to her home for a while. We hope they both enjoy their holidays.

Angus Coulter had his daughter Margaret Miller in for lunch with him Thursday, Lily Hogg had her family in to see her on Thursday too, it sure made Lily's day.

Mabel and Eldon Deacon were in to help with bingo Thursday. I didn't go, so don't know much about it, but I'm sure it was enjoyed.

I had a touch of penumonia and am tired out at night. Nearly everyone has had 'flu or colds of some kind in here. Should soon be over I thing, but it leaves one so tired.

Our sincere sympathy to the Morgan Trumbull family on his death and we hope Edna soon improves. Edna worked here for many years before she retired. Maud Coulter and Beatrice Taylor came Sunday afternoon and visited with several residents here.

My son Jim and and his wife Beryl took me out for a drive Sunday afternoon. We saw three deer which is always quite a thrill.

Well folks, we have January behind us so it will soon be spring.

'Bye till next week and take care.

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

Your Branch is a beehive of activity. This past Saturday morning there was a Flea Market upstairs, women preparing cheese trays in the club room, tons of paperwork going on in the office and a group of Legion helpers folding, addressing and stamping bulletins.

Plans for the Bluegrass weekend are progressing well. Committee chairmen have been selected and volunteers sign-up sheets will soon be posted. We will need a lot of helpers.

Our Cadet Corps is very busy with their training sessions and classroom instructions. Most of the initial registration paper work has been completed.

Rose and Merle Pringle's grandson is an Air Cadet in North Bay. He wrote an article for a North Bay newspaper. We are have it reprinted here. I hope the cadets and their parents enjoy it.

"This past summer I was honoured to have been selected as one of 60 cadets from coast to coast to participate in the International Air Cadet Exchange. The IACE program runs for two to three weeks each summer with Air Cadets from some 13 countries participating.

Canadian cadets participate in two main exchanges, with 29 cadets going to the United Kingdom while 25 travel to various other European countries. The UK exchange consists of two phases, one week in England and one week in Scotland. I was among those selected to travel to Britain.

During our time in England, we took in all the regular tourist activities and we were privileged to attend the Royal Tournament, tour the Royal Air Force Museum and visit the RAF Station at Wittering - the only operational Harrier base in the UK. One of the highlights for me was our accommodations - to be hosted in an Officer's Mess was quite a pleasant change after spending five previous summers in Cadet barracks!

The second phase of our exchange, our week in Scotland, was the best educational experience in my life so far. During the entire time, we were hosted by individual families. My first hosts were the Pearl family who lived in Aberdeen and in four short days I learned much about their family and about Scottish culture. My second hosts were the Sandilands who resided in Edinburgh. During my stay there, I had time to see all the sights as well as rest.

The exchange visit to the UK was the most enjoyable time of my life and will not soon be forgotten.

Did you see our ads elsewhere in this paper? In conjunction with Bluegrass we are running two contests. One of these is for a title or motto for our Bluegrass Festival with a $50 cash prize. The second is to give a name to the Bluegrass mascot. Get your entries in right away. The deadline for both is February 9.
